WHO'S MAKING MONEY?

Don't Accuse the Street Railway Company of It.

BUT JUST TAKE A GLANCE

At the List of Damage Suits Below and Think How Pleasant It Would be to Pay Out $66,846 on a Line Not Making Expenses—A Few Facts From Lisbon.

At Johnson's experiences with the unlucky 13 have extended to East Liverpool, although that number would never have caused him any trouble had it not traveled to Lisbon. But if the magnate imagined that his misfortunes ended when that number was reached Al has made a mistake. For a long time it stood at 13, but only a couple of weeks ago the spell was broken, and now the list of damage suits against the East Liverpool and Wellsville Street Railway is exactly 14.

Not that they are all pending, for seven of them have been settled and it cost just $6,325 to do it, according to verdicts rendered, carried up and sustained and not including $12,071 worth of suits adjusted out of court. But if these amounts look big, gaze on this one, $47,250, representing cases still holding fire at the county seat. For the benefit of News Review readers our hustling Lisbon correspondent has secured the list complete and presents it as follows:

Samuel and Daniel Dawson versus the East Liverpool and Wellsville Street Railway company, filed April, '92. Five thousand dollars asked in each case for injuries received by laborers cutting down a tree in East End. A verdict for $500 was rendered for the former and $400 for the latter. An appeal was taken to circuit court, where the judgment of common pleas was affirmed.

Charles A. White versus the East Liverpool and Wellsville Street Railway company. Appealed from Squire Rose's docket in May, '92. While moving household goods in East Liverpool in March, '92, a street car collided with the rear end of his wagon, damaging it to the extent of $71. Case settled out of court in May, '93.

Eva Voendran versus the East Liverpool and Wellsville Street Railway company. Filed July, '92. In June, '92, while going to East End, the car in which she was riding jumped the track, going over the embankment, seriously injuring her and causing nervous prostration. Two thousand dollars damages were asked. Case settled the following October.

Charles C. Lawson versus the East Liverpool and Wellsville Street Railway company. Filed November, '92. Five thousand dollars asked, and on trial, May, '93, a decree was given the plaintiff. Appealed to circuit court and judgment affirmed.

Ray Colclough, a minor, versus the East Liverpool and Wellsville Street Railway company. Filed Feb. 4, '93. Two thousand dollars damages asked for injuries received. Verdict for $425 rendered at the May term, '93, which was appealed to circuit court and affirmed.

William Dorff, guardian, versus the East Liverpool and Wellsville Street Railway company. Filed March 30, '93. Ten thousand dollars damages asked for injuries sustained by his daughter, Julia Dorff, in July, '92, when she was struck by a car and knocked down, resulting in the loss of a leg. Last February a settlement was effected.

James D. West versus The East Liverpool and Wellsville Street Railway company filed August 25, '93. In January '93 plaintiff claims he was driving a cab between East Liverpool and Wellsville when his horses were scared by the approach of a car, and plunged dangerously near a bank, when a second car was allowed to approach, following closely in a noisy, unrestricted manner, causing his team to plunge nearer and nearer the bank until he was violently thrown over the embankment, breaking his cab and damaging him in the sum of $250. Still pending.

Mandia D. Martin versus The East Liverpool and Wellsville Street Railway company filed January 27, '94, $5,000 asked for injuries received on Thanksgiving night, '93, from being struck by a car crossing East End trestle and violently hurled 15 feet to the ground below. Internal injuries of a complicated and permanent nature claimed. Still pending.

Miller J. Harsha administrator of Stella Harsha's estate versus The East Liverpool and Wellsville Street Railway company. Filed February 15, '94, $10,000 asked for death of his wife, Stella, which resulted from the accident on the East End trestle over McKinnon's run on Thanksgiving night '93. Still pending.

Frederick C. Karcher versus The East Liverpool and Wellsville Street Railway company filed March 17, '94, $5,000 damages asked on account of serious injuries sustained from the Thanksgiving night accident on East End trestle in '93. Plaintiff, a blacksmith, was incapacitated from ever following his trade still pending.

Charles A. McKenna, a minor, versus The East Liverpool and Wellsville Street Railway company, filed July 23, '94, $5,000 damages demanded on account of a broken leg received in November '91 through the alleged carelessness and negligence of the employees at work on the construction of this road. In Jethro hollow heavy trucks were used for the purpose of drawing iron rails up the incline, and when unloaded one of these trucks were carelessly allowed to pass down the hill at a reckless speed, and when near the bridge in the hollow a log was struck and started down the hill striking the plaintiff and causing the accident. Still pending.

P. M. Smith versus The East Liverpool and Wellsville Street Railway company filed Sept. 27, '92, $2,000 asked for damages to a piece of ground owned by him, lying along the public road between East Liverpool and Wellsville, damaged through the construction of this road, being cut away and left by the company without any support, allowing it to slide over the hill. Pending.

Hannah Hannahan versus The East Liverpool and Wellsville Street Railway company filed Jan. 24, '95, $10,000 asked for injuries received two weeks ago, during the rear end collision in Wellsville. Carelessness is alleged. Pending.

Now let the individual who says there's a mint of money in the street car business here come forward and acknowledge his mistake like a man.

WAS NOT RECORDED.

Somebody's Negligence Causes Rogers People Trouble—Court News.

Lisbon, Feb. 5.—A petition to incorporate the town of Rogers received a setback here today. The plat of the village has never been filed and consequently the petition was deferred.

The bill of exceptions in the McGregor case has not yet been filed, owing to a hitch in the defense.

Commission Returned.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

Lisbon, Feb. 4.—The commission issued some time ago to take the testimony of a subscribing witness to the will of the late Alfred Connell, of Wellsville, was returned this morning and the will admitted to probate.

On application, as required, Seneth Taggart was appointed executor of the estate of the late Joseph Taggart, of Unity township. No bond was required by law. R. C. Taggart, C. F. Woods and D. W. Moore will make the appraisement.

John F. Chamberlin was, with $25,000 bond, appointed executor of the estate of the late Rebecca C. Chamberlin, of East Palestine.

Frank E. Grosshans was given letters of administration of the estate of the late Henry H. Webber, of East Liverpool. He gave bond as such in the sum of $1,600, and the court appointed Casper Geisz, Samuel Whittemberger and Frank Stewart as appraisers.

The letters of guardianship for the estate and person of Charles O. Freed having been revoked, J. H. Moore was appointed today with $1,200.

The guardian of Frank H. Messe was required to give additional bond as such guardian in the sum of $450, which was approved.

In the case of Howard L. Koch, guardian, versus his ward, the return of the appraisers was filed and the bond of the guardian given in the sum of $562.80.

Victoria C. Coffee, guardian of Florence V. Coffee versus Florence V. Coffee and others; petition filed and set for hearing on February 14.

Hit Him Hard.

A photographer has East Liverpool authority for the statement that he lost a $4,000 contract by the burning of the Phoenix Glass house, at Monaca, Beaver county, Pa. The gentleman in question was to set up a photographer's outfit in the glass factory and do his work on the spot. The destruction of the fine Monaca plant will throw many hands out of employment. East Liverpool shares the burden.

Church of Christ.

These meetings have become intensely interesting, and great crowds are nightly in attendance. B. F. Farrell, the popular evangelist of New Cumberland, added much to the enjoyment of last night's meeting through the instrumentality of service of song. Evangelist Slater will preach tonight, taking as his subject "Faith." You have a cordial invitation to be present.

THE RIVER MAY CLOSE

Cold Weather Will Stop the Ice on the Ohio.

EXPECTED AT THIS POINT

Tonight or Tomorrow If the Weather Does Not Moderate—Rivermen Are Blue Over the Prospects—Local Ferry Boat Suspends Business and No Packets Are Running.

The prospects for the river closing at this point are very bright—that is, the small boy anticipates countless hours of skating, and the river men look gloomy.

The river is filled with immense cakes of ice, and all boats are laid up. The ferryboat at this point cannot run and people crossing the river in skiffs find it a difficult task to get over the stream. It was reported last night that the river was closed at Smith's Ferry, but such was not the case, and so far as can be learned it is still open between here and Cincinnati. The prospects are that tonight the stream will be frozen over if the cold weather continues. At Pittsburgh the river this morning was nine feet and two inches and falling. Lower temperature is looked for. Navigation is virtually suspended and the outlook for an early resumption is not very encouraging. The Hudson has been compelled to lay up at Cincinnati. The Pacific No. 1 took three barges to Pittsburgh from this city, intending to return for the five remaining boats. She has not yet arrived. The Fallie is having a doctor put in to take the place of the injector, although the latter piece of machinery is working well on all the other steamers.

AMONG THE SPORTS.

Is the Wrestling Match a Bonafide Affair? Old Time Fan.

The impression is gaining ground that Allison has no consuming desire to tackle Scheller on the mat. Other parties are whispering that the contemplated match is a hippodrome, all cut and dried by the two cunning wrestlers; that Allison, as prearranged elsewhere, came to East Liverpool straight from the presence of his co-worker, Scheller, stirred up to white heat the wrestling or sporting blood in the veins of the East Liverpool sports; and now Scheller makes his appearance and adds to the flame, and the suckers will be gathered into the meshes of the net. Be this as it may, we venture the prediction that, if the match comes off, and it is a bonafide affair, Allison will discover that he has had a contest with a whirlwind.

Talking of sporting matters the other day, of wrestlers and boxers, a well known gentleman of East Liverpool said:

"I'll never forget the night, at a club room in this city, when McAleer, of the Cleveland base ball club, put on the mitts with a prominent potter's son of East Liverpool. It was a put-up job by a friend of McAleer, who expected to see Jimmie wipe up the floor with our young townsman. But he counted without his host, as our town boy was pretty clever, and what he lacked in skill he made up in strength and grit. Talk about your hurricane fights—oh, but that was a daisy: bliff, bang, bliff, bang, bum; dodge and upper cut; straight drives and cross counters, each of the boys determined to knock the other out, and each unable to fulfill the contract. Finally the jubilee became so warm that the members of the club deemed it expedient to stop the combat, and the affair was, by mutual consent, declared a draw."

IMPUDENT EMPLOYEES.

Cheeky Individuals Who Imagine They Own the Earth.

Some of the employees connected with establishments of this city of East Liverpool, and paid to cater to the public in a courteous and business like manner, are utterly lacking in the attributes which go to make up the true workman, but act as if they own the entire plant and as if the public at large were forced to submit to their whims and caprices. In one particular case in this city, so exceedingly offensive did one character of this kind become in East Liverpool, that numerous complaints went to headquarters. A prominent official of the company called at the News Review office in order to ascertain if the proprietors knew anything of the matter. In so far as the proprietors knew at that time, the person informed upon was doing passably good work in the position occupied, and not desiring to throw anyone out of employment, a favorable report was given and the party retained in position in consequence. Since that time the News Review has been brought in close contact with the individual in question, and the belief now is that the verdict of the first complainants was certainly correct—the individual is careless, discourteous, lacking in business characteristics and impudent to an eminent degree. Can you put your hand on the party?

A Funny Letter.

A well known professor of Christianity, residing in East Liverpool, a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church, received an anonymous letter this morning, enclosing reading matter referring to the late charity concert at the Grand Opera House, the clippings from a local paper being sewed together, evidently by a female hand, or some one clumsily attempting to imitate the work of a fair and angelic female. Written above the clippings were the words, "Are you a Methodist, or what?" The recipient claims to be a Methodist, from center to circumference, one deeply loving his church and the principles it advocates; but he also believes that men and women of other denominations can be and are Christians, and are just as truly on the narrow road that leads to salvation and eternal life as are our Methodist brethren and sisters. If the anonymous correspondent will send an explanation of the cipher message used and give his or her name, a comprehensive answer will be made.

More Trouble at the Ferry.

A special from Martin's Ferry says that yesterday morning as Alexander Humphrey, manager of the Buckeye Glass works, was entering the factory, one of a group of four men who were standing near the gate fired three shots at him. None of the shots took effect and Mr. Humphrey passed on into the factory. The man who fired the shots was recognized and will be arrested.

The local union glassworkers have caused the arrest of eight Buckeye employes, including Manager Humphrey, accusing them of rioting on Saturday night, Jan. 26, when 30 shots were fired. The seven non-union men arrested were Bert Bucey, John Everets, John Rizer, Joseph Willard, John Thorne, James Lock and James Snyder. They gave bond for $200 each for their appearance Wednesday morning. Mr. Humphrey waived an examination and gave bond for $300.

Allison Coming Today.

The expectation of Scheller, the wrestler, today, is that Allison will arrive on the afternoon train to sign articles for the match in this city. Scheller has about decided that Turner hall would be the most suitable place for the match and will probably arrange to have it come off there on next Saturday evening, big pay. Scheller insists that the affair will be strictly on the square, and rather than have the impression abroad that he is connected with any scheme, offers to wrestle in private for the stake money alone. He would prefer this to any suspicion that might injure his reputation, as he has always been known as a good man ready to meet those of his class in a square match.

Salineville's Sensation.

A Salineville special says: William McClain, appointed janitor of the Methodist Episcopal church some few weeks ago, over Mr. Henry Wheeler, who gave the lowest bid, is supposed to have skipped to Texas, taking with him about $300 cash, and leaving behind his family consisting of wife and three or four children, and a number of debts amounting to about $200. McClain is a shoemaker by trade and after his departure two prominent members of the church, of which he was janitor, undertook to seize his tools for payment of a bill and the result was a severe tongue lashing between the two parties. McClain was a member of the church and had only been here a short time.—Alliance Critic.

In Their New Home.

Mr. George and his daughter, Mrs. Quay, who lately left East Liverpool, for the purpose of making their home in Pocomoke, Md., speak well of the country in which they now reside. By way of showing the difference in temperature of that section and this, they enclose to Mr. Frank George, this city, in a letter, a twig of honeysuckle in blossom.

A Card of Thanks.

Haynes' band, at their regular meeting held last night, extended to one and all who participated in the late grand charity concert at the opera house their most earnest thanks. The News Review was spoken of in warm terms of praise for the assistance it rendered in giving publicity to the affair free of charge.

ECHO FROM A WRECK

Which Cost Several Lives In Wellsville.

A VERDICT GIVEN A WOMAN

Who Lost Her Husband In the Smashup. Conductor Elmer Jackson's Wife Is Awarded $6,500 In the Courts at Youngstown.

A verdict rendered in Youngstown yesterday for Mrs. Elmer Jackson, widow of the conductor who was killed in the wreck at Wellsville, on October 18, 1893, recalls that terrible catastrophe.

The wreck it will be remembered was one of the worst ever occurring in the sister city. Mrs. Jackson's husband was conductor on the train, and his father was also among the fated crew. They were crushed and scalded and before she arrived from Pittsburg had died at the residences nearby. Mrs. Jackson entered suit in the courts at Youngstown for $10,000 and the jury gave her a verdict of $6,500.

Sharpen the Shoes.

A kind and merciful man will see to it that the horses he owns and uses in hauling heavy loads are made as sure-footed as possible in this wintry weather. See that the heels and toes of the shoes are properly sharpened, and you will not only give comfort and security to the noble animals, but may save a snug sum of money in preventing dismemberment and death to your property. These remarks are called forth in consequence of seeing a fine draught horse drop to his knees on the icy streets last night, while doing his level best to obey the behest of his driver. Watch the feet of your horses.

Henry Studenroth Killed.

Henry Studenroth, a saloonkeeper at 548 Smithfield street, Pittsburg, fell down stairs at his home last night and broke his neck, death resulting instantly. Studenroth was owner of the National House in this city and has been prominently identified in the fight with the board of health. He was in the city on Friday last and returned home after settling the dispute with the board amicably. Although in the liquor business, Mr. Studenroth was known as a good citizen and seemed anxious to do right by the officials. His tenant at the National House is Charles Hutcheson.

Taken to Lisbon.

Charles and Baltz Zoellars were taken overland to Lisbon this morning by Officer Wyman. They have been putting in their time at city hall lately by singing and composing songs which have much to do with the robbery they are charged with. The pair kept up the nerve which has always characterized them, and take their incarceration and possible conviction as a matter of course.

Home Talent Play.

The Sid K. Russell company disbanded at Toronto yesterday morning, part of the company going to Steubenville in order to catch on and get out of town with some troupe. Russell and one or two other members left for this city where he intends trying to present the "Dutch Recruit" with the aid of home talent.

Some of the Sick.

J. E. McDonald, who has been very ill with scarlet fever, is thought to be on the road to recovery.

Daniel Ogilvie suffers at his home on Seventh street from typhoid fever, although his condition is not dangerous.

Sued For Wages.

Harry Shumate, a minor, entered suit in Squire Travis' court today against Samuel Groves for $22.60, claimed due for work and labor. The action was filed through his father, N. Shumate.

Bogardus Dead.

Captain Bogardus, the famous crack shot and champion of the world, is reported dead at Austell, Ga. Many people will remember seeing Bogardus when he appeared here a few years ago.

Broke His Leg.

A young man named Green fell on Market street last night and broke a leg. Chief Gill and Officer Badgely secured a stretcher from the patrol station and carried him home.

Good Citizens League.

The league will meet at 8 o'clock tonight, at the United Presbyterian church. If you are interested in good government in our city, you will attend tonight.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, FEB. 5.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF Ohio.

PATRONIZE home merchants.

PAY your debts. You may need help some time again. Make friends for the hour of necessity.

WHEN a so-called newspaper man takes money from you for the suppression of an article in his columns, mark him down as a blackmailer and a disgrace to the profession.

DON'T wait to be asked before you contribute to the grand cause of charity. You are your brother's keeper.
You cannot dodge the issue. It will force itself upon your notice. Seek out some one who is suffering on account of the lack of the common necessities of life. Slight help may do wonders. Gain a blessing by freely giving.

MARK this down in your hat band, that just so soon as Republicanism wins out at the next Presidential election, so surely will this nation see long years of wonderful prosperity.
Democracy has been weighed in the balance and found absolutely wanting. It makes a Republican of East Liverpool feel happy from center to circumference, when he realizes the fact that he is surrounded by a host of voters who are in line with himself, and who can relegate to the realms of obscurity all aspirants for position from the party about to be buried and soon forgotten. Hain't you glad you are a Republican, old man?

CITY REVIVALS.

Much good is evidently being accomplished in East Liverpool through the instrumentality of regular revival and evangelistic services. True and honest men and women of this vicinity are earnestly engaged in assisting the leaders in this good work, upon which the blessing of the Giver of all good gifts is most certainly descending. Through the instrumen-tality of the revival services of last winter, East Liverpool has gained a number of good citizens, men who were formerly wild and reckless, living lives of wickedness, drunkenness and dissipation, and this winter has shown good work in the same line.
Christianity in a man's heart makes him a good citizen. The genuine article always does this. This is as truly a fact as that two times two makes four.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

In the presidential preferences of Republican editors from every state and territory, our own gallant soldier and statesman, William McKinley, the champion of protection to home and home industries, takes the lead.
So says a leading exchange, after carefully dissecting and investigating the political field. And the voice of the people echoes the verdict of the press. Our own noble governor, the pride and boast of Ohio, an honest Christian gentleman, unsmirched by political trickery, and with a record unstained and untarnished, is a fitting leader for the grand old party which has done so much for this great nation. The News Review was one of the very first newspapers in the land, if not the first, to plant McKinley's name at the head of its editorial columns as its choice for president of this republic, and there it shall remain until the nomination is over, and until the voice of the representatives of the party, in session assembled, shall name the man who shall lead Republicanism to victory, the forerunner of a long continuance in power. The News Review is for McKinley, first, last and all the time, until this final verdict.

AT LEAST $100,000,000

American and Foreign Bankers
Will Take the New Bonds.

JORDAN EXPECTS THEM SOON.

He Thinks There Will Be Plenty of Demands For the Bonds—The Delay Is Due to the Figures at Which They Are to Be Sold.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The Press this morning says: "On reliable authority the Press is able to announce that the new bond issue will be taken up by a syndicate composed of American and foreign bankers. The issue will be at least $100,000,000 of the United States government 4's and may be more. The delay is understood to be due to the exact figures at which they will be sold."

"The men who will underwrite the new issue, according to the best information on Wall street are the Roth-schilds represented here by August Belmont, J. Pierpont Morgan and several prominent local financiers who are the head of big moneyed institutions in the city."

"Several important factors have contributed to bring the local financiers into the deal. In the first place, the Morgans and Belmonts have much gold here and hence would have to draw on the banks, so that the latter would have to figure in the transaction some way.
In the next place, the Rothschilds, so it is stated, are just as anxious to have the local moneyed men in the deal as the latter are anxious to be in themselves."

"Assistant Treasurer Jordan, in discussing the situation, had this to say:
"I do not expect that Mr. Curtis will find it necessary to come to New York again. Judging from the inquiries we have received, I think that there will be plenty of demands for the bonds when once they are ready to be issued. The general conviction is that the loan will be announced in a very short time."

"The Press also learns from trustworthy sources that there will be an opportunity given to the public to make a bid on the new bonds. Inside advices are that the local financiers will take about $50,000,000 of the new loan and the remainder will go to foreign houses."

May Cause International Complications.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—There is a chance of international difficulties, owing to the seizure by a mob of a party of American officers, who accidentally killed a Chinaman while hunting near Chin Kiang. At the navy yard there are two widely different opinions. Some believe that the Chinamen, in their present state of excitement and chagrin at continuous defeats, would deal cruelly with any foreigner in their hands, especially if he had killed a native, even by accident. Others think the influence of foreign warships is great enough to protect the Concord's officers from violence.

Afraid of an Ice Gorge.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 5.—The people of Port Deposit, Md., are taking every possible precaution in order to lessen the destruction of life and property expected to follow the breaking of the breaking of the present ice gorge.
From a point running parallel with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad bridge across Garrett island, up the Susquehanna river, the ice is gorged from shore to shore as far as McCall's ferry, with the exception of two channels close to the banks.

Holds the Child For a Ransom.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Feb. 5.—All the officers in this end of the state have been on the lookout for William Woodward, who formerly lived at Covington, Ky., and who, separating from his wife, came here to his father-in-law's house and demanded possession of his child, which was refused him. He then took a son of Mr. Hager, his wife's father, aged 7, and left a letter saying that the child would be given up as soon as his child was placed in the possession of certain parties.

A Bad Man Caught.

GUNNISON, Colo., Feb. 5.—One of the most desperate characters in Colorado has been placed under arrest here by Deputy Sheriff Judd Ripley, being Jack Smith, alias General Johnson, alias Mason, the leader and captain of the Bull Bill miners during the Cripple Creek war. Smith has successfully evaded officers since then, but was taken wholly unawares while playing a game of crib in a saloon here.

Comedian Paul Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—John Paul, at one time prominent as a comedian, has died here. Mr. Paul was for many years associated with William E. Burton, during that actor's management of the Arch Street theater, and toured the country with many of the prominent stars of his time. For 35 years Mr.
Paul was treasurer of the Senior lodge of the Actors' Order of Friendship.

New Officers Elected.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—At the annual meeting of the Pen and Pencil club the following officers were elected: President, Louis N. McGarvey; vice president, Henry Young; treasurer, James S. McCartney; board of governors, William A. Connor, James J.
Dailey, T. Henry Martin, James Rankin Young and Edmund Stirling.

The Drunk Cost Him His Life.

WESTON, W. Va., Feb. 5.—Lee Smith, living three miles from this city, came here and while in town drank considerable whisky. He started home about 5 o'clock in the evening but laid down in a fence corner to rest. In the morning he was found with both legs and arms so badly frozen that he died.

Edwin H. Meade Dead.

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., Feb. 5.—Edwin H. Meade, president of the Pennsylvania Coal company, is dead. He became secretary of the Pennsylvania Coal company in 1882, later its treasurer, and eventually president.

A Fire at Nelsonville.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 5.—A fire at Nelsonville, O., has destroyed $27,000 worth of property. Insurance, $10,000.

GOT ABOUT $30,000.

The Milan (O.) Bank Robbers Laid Their Plans Poorly.

MILAN, O., Feb. 5.—The exact amount of money secured by the bank robbers cannot yet be ascertained, but it is believed to be about $30,000. The bank is a wealthy concern, which fact was doubtless known by the men. The only error in their well laid plans was the heavy explosion, which started the alarm. It is quite probable that they had not prepared it with sufficient caution, and by that one error their plans were upset and themselves placed in hourly danger of capture.

The police of Sandusky think they have two of the five men. They have arrested at their homes in this city Gib Stoughton, a saloonkeeper, and Solly Hirschberg, the latter of no particular occupation. Stoughton and Hirschberg hired a rig from Hook & Hurd's livery stables here, saying they were going to Freemont. This rig was partially identified as the one in which the five bank robbers drove out of Milan after committing the robbery, and the fact that it was returned by Stoughton and Hirsch-berg in the morning caused suspicion to be attached to them. Nothing further has been heard as to the whereabouts of the other three cracksmen.

The Lockwood bank building was entirely demolished by the robbers in blowing open the safe.

Among the many who started to investigate the explosion was L. L. Stodard, cashier of the bank, and he was just in time to see the five men leave the bank building, jump into a carriage and drive away on a dead gallop. He fired several shots at them, but without effect, and the men soon disappeared in the direction of Sandusky. At the same time notices were sent by wire in all directions, and the news spread around them so securely that escape was well nigh impossible.

Will Exterminate Bad Houses.

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 5.—A war of extermination on the houses of disrepute in this city is promised if M. B. Donnelly, a prominent taxpayer of this city, carries out his expressed intention. Under what is known as the Winn law, passed by the Ohio assembly last year, Donnelly has begun suit against the owners of the property on which stand two of the more notorious bachelors of the city.
The defendants in one case are Nelson Morris & Co. of Chicago and Luella Spencer of Denver. The Winn law really prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquors in the houses in question, but the action can be taken only against the owner of the property. The penalty for conviction is $500, of which the informer, who in this case is represented by Donnelly, gets one-third. It is not necessary to prove that the houses are rented for unlawful purposes.

Revision of the Scale Demanded.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 5.—The Mahoning and Shenango Valley Iron Manufacturers' association, composed of the leading iron concerns in Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania, has served notice on the Amalgamated association that at the expiration of 30 days a revision of the wage scale will be expected. This means that the 44-per cent rate for puddling will be maintained no longer. Already notice to the finisher's union, for the same purpose, has been given, and it looks as though before many weeks have rolled by that this section will be the scene of a memorable discussion over ironworkers' wages.

Coal Operators Organize.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 5.—The mine owners in Summa creek valley operating over the Toledo and Ohio Central railway have organized the Ohio Central Fuel company for the purpose of reducing expenses and operating the property in an economical manner. J. S. Marton is president, G. G. Hadley, vice president, W. S. Courtwright, secretary and J. E. Martin, treasurer. The general offices of the company will be in Columbus. The organization will command attention in the coal trade of the country.

The Osborn Victim Identified.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Feb. 5.—Gustav Harm, a boarding-house keeper, identified the man found mysteriously murdered at Osborn, Saturday a week, as John Rawley, one of his boarders. He is known to have left for Dayton the next day dead along the railroad track, with gashes in his head and back, and physicians say the wounds could not have been made by car wheels.

A Boy Hunter Killed.

WAPAKONETA, O., Feb. 5.—While out rabbit hunting the 15-year-old son of Benjamin Young slipped and fell, discharging the shotgun, the contents entering his abdomen and producing a ghastly wound. In this terrible condition he made his way to the nearest house, though a hundred yards distant, where he related the story of the accident, and died shortly after the arrival of his parents.

Incorporated in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 5.—The following articles of incorporation were filed in the office of the secretary of state: Sidney School Furniture company, Sidney, capital stock $100,000; Forest City Stone company, Cleveland, capital stock $200,000; Norwood Land Security company, Cincinnati, capital stock $200,000; Eagle Mutual Aid association, Cincinnati.

Approve Cleveland's Plan.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 5.—The Cincinnati chamber of commerce has unanimously adopted a resolution approving the general policy of President Cleveland, as stated in his recent financial message, asking that it have the prompt and favorable consideration of our national legislators.

Found His Son's Body.

COLUMBIA, Pa., Feb. 5.—While William Burnholder, a Pennsylvania railroad fireman, residing at Watt's station, was walking along the railroad track in front of his house, he found the mangled body of his son. It is supposed that the boy had been stealing a ride to his home and fell under the train.

To Hold a Canal Meeting.

ZANESVILLE, O., Feb. 5.—A meeting of representatives of the cities along the Muskingum river and Ohio, the ship canal route, will be held in this city March 14, to plan for securing national legislation in favor of this route in preference to other proposed lines.

REED HAS A SCHEME.

He Prepares a Temporary Financial Expedient.

IT UPSETS SPRINGER'S PLANS.

The Chairman and His Colleagues Had Counted on Many Republican Votes For the Administration Bill—Silver Senators Want a Free Silver Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The calculations of the supporters and opponents of the new administration financial bill have been upset by the interjection of a new factor into the campaign. Mr.
Reed (Me.), the Republican leader, has brought forward a new plan for which he is endeavoring to enlist the entire strength of his party, and which he will offer as a substitute for the administration scheme, if he thinks his plan can command sufficient support to make it a factor in the fight. There are but two sections to the Reed plan in the form in which he has submitted it to his colleagues. The first proposes to restrict the law of 1875, which authorizes the secretary of the treasury to issue bonds to redeem the greenbacks, to 3 per cent bonds.

The second section authorizes the secretary of the treasury, when there is a deficit, to issue certificates of indebtedness to pay current expenses, the certificates to be in sums of $25, $50 and $100 and any multiples thereof, bearing interest at 3 per cent, and payable in coin.

The bill, as Mr. Reed explained to the Republicans whose support he sought, is but a temporary expedient to tide over the present distress. The substitution of "coin" for the gold provisions of the administration plan is expected to win for it toleration, if not support of the free silver men, who bitterly oppose all propositions to discriminate by stipulation in any bill in favor of gold.
In comparative simplicity, it is expected, will commend the bill to the house in preference to more complex plans.

Mr. Reed has devoted himself assiduously to cloakroom consultations with the Republicans. He first endeavored to elicit the opinions of the gold men, and then talked to the silver men. The measure of his success is difficult to estimate. The plan is to offer the bill as a substitute for the administration and by polling the solid Republican vote, while the Democrats are devoted to the administration bill will make it the most formidable proposition in the field, and perhaps induce the Democratic opponents of the administration bill to rally to its support.

Chairman Springer and his colleagues have counted on most of the Republican votes for the administration bill, and have prophesied that it would poll about the same support that was given to the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act. Accordingly, Mr. Reed's move overturns their calculations to a great extent.

Interest in the financial question about the senate centered in the activity of the silver senators and the frequent consultations held by them. This, taken in connection with the call issued by Senator Voorhees, chairman of the finance committee, led to the general supposition that an attempt would be made by the silver advocates on the committee to secure the reporting of a free silver bill. Inquiry among the members of the committee failed to develop absolute assurance that the effort would be made, but enough was said in many quarters to indicate that the general supposition was not without good foundation, and to justify the statement that the silver men are very hopeful of bringing a free coinage bill out of the committee, if not at today's meeting, at the next one to be held. They believe that Senator Jones (Nev.) will unite with Senators Vail, Harris, Vest, Jones (Ark.) and White in support of some measure that will be satisfactory to the silver men.

Currency Bill to Be Considered.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—An attempt was made in the house to pass an omnibus bill for the payment of claims for stores and supplies confiscated from loyal people in the south during the war amounting to $718,663. It excited much opposition, especially from Pennsylvania members interested in Pennsylvania war claims amounting to $1,000,000, and not included, and the measure was defeeted, 95 to 148. A rule was then adopted for the consideration of the currency bill today, Wednesday and Thursday, after which the remainder of the session was devoted to the agricultural appropriation bill, which was passed without amendment.

Gettysburg Bill to Become a Law.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The senate spent almost the entire session on the District of Columbia appropriation bill, and for the first time since the measure was taken up it did not serve as a text for financial discussion. Among the bills passed was that for the establishment of a national military park at Gettysburg, Pa., and for the appropriate marking of the chief points on that historic battleground. As the bill has already passed the house, it will become a law on receiving the president's signature.

Bond Issue Probable at Any Time.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The amount of bonds which the administration contemplates issuing and may give notice of at any time now, is $100,000,000 of 4 per cents, to run 30 years. Arrangements, it is believed, have been practically concluded assuring the government that these bonds will be paid for with foreign gold.

More Hawaiian Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The president has sent additional Hawaiian correspondence to congress. Most of it has been published hitherto. The chief feature is the correspondence between Secretary Gresham and Minister Thurston, in which the latter speaks of possible trouble the Hawaiian government will have in protecting foreigners.

Alabama Authorities Want Him.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 5.—Henry Ford has been arrested at Red Ash on a charge of murdering the sheriff of Henry county, Ala., May 23, 1893.

FIFTY PERSONS PERISHED.

Victims of the Mine Explosion in France Badly Mutilated.

PARIS, Feb. 5.—It is believed that 50 persons perished in the explosion of fire-damp in the Montceau Les mines.
Department of Saone et Loire. The work of rescuing the living and reovering the bodies of the dead is greatly impeded owing to the fact that the explosion caused the workings to collapse, filling the galleries with tons of rock and earth and great quantities of timber that had been used for supports.
The bodies that have already been brought to the surface were so badly burned that they presented the appearance of blackened cinders.

The wounded are in a terrible condition, their flesh being frightfully tormented. Many of them have broken arms and legs, in addition to their other injuries. They suffered the most excruciating agony, and as they were removed from the pit their groans caused the hardest of the miners who heard them to shudder. The month of the pit is surrounded by wailing women and children whose husbands and fathers are entombed in the mine.

THE STRIKERS' TURN.

Blows at Brooklyn Magnates From Different Directions.

THEIR FRANCHISES IN DANGER.

The Board of Aldermen Passes the Resolution Presented by Workmen—Judge Denies the Atlantic Avenue Company Must Answer the Mandamus Application.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 5.—The Brooklyn board of aldermen has adopted the resolution presented by the representatives of the striking motormen and conductors rescinding the franchises and privileges granted to the Brooklyn trolley lines which are connected with the present strikes. The vote stood 10 for and 5 against. The chairman voted in the negative. One of the aldermen said the action of the board was not legal, claiming that the aldermen had no right to revoke the privileges granted to the roads.

When the meeting of the board of aldermen adjourned a committee consisting of four members of District Assembly No. 75, Knights of Labor, called upon Mayor Schieren, at his office, to urge the mayor to sign the resolution which was passed by the board of aldermen. The committee was received by Secretary Palmer and he went in and asked the mayor what he proposed to do. The mayor replied: "When this resolution comes before me on Wednesday next in the regular way, I will have something to say about it. I decline to say in advance, what I shall do."

Judge Gaynor, in supreme court chambers, has handed down a decision on the application for a writ of mandamus against the Atlantic Avenue company. The application was made by James O'Connell, a mineral water bottler, who claims to have suffered great financial loss because the company has not operated its cars as fully as they were operated prior to Jan. 14. Judge Gaynor allows the company 30 days in which to make answer before a judge and jury. He says in his decision that the street car companies have ample protection to run their cars.

President Benjamin Norton of the Atlantic Avenue Railroad company was arraigned before United States Commissioner Morle, Brooklyn, charged with the violation of a United States statute in displaying United States mail signs on trolley cars that were not carrying mail. Ex-Judge Morris, counsel for Mr. Norton, contended that the agreement of the company with the United States government provided that they must be ready to carry mail on all trains or cars, and while, perhaps, there might have been cars without mail actually on them, the cars when the sign was put on had been engaged in carrying mail.

An Albany special says: The hearing on the application brought in behalf of the Brooklyn trolley strikers to annul the charter of the Brooklyn Heights company, because of its failure to operate its line, has been resumed before Attorney General Hancock. It is not probable that Attorney General Hancock will render a decision on the application for several days.

This morning 150 of the imported motormen who have taken the places of the strikers assembled in Mayor Schieren's office, and asked Brooklyn's chief executive whether they cannot recover damages from the railroad for being brought to Brooklyn on false pretenses.

THE DEBS CASE.

Arguments Completed and the Judge Will Make His Decision Today.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Unexpectedly the counsel for the government has announced that it had submitted all its evidence in the conspiracy case before Judge Grosscup. The jury was requested to retire and counsel for the defense asked for the dismissal of the defendants. Judge Thoman, for John F. McVean, the Cleveland member of the board of directors, asked that his client be discharged, that during the trial his name was not coupled with any of the others, save as being a fellow director. There was no proof that he had been in Chicago during the strike. He had never been in any councils of the board of directors during the strike period. Mr. Walker, for the government, admitted the representation, but called the attention of the court to the fact that McVean had voted in the convention to order a strike and had acted as a member of one of the committees.

Mr. Darrow asked for the peremptory discharge of Frank Dreyer, Dennis Larkin, James McDonald and John Burke, not one of whom had been named as taking part in a single overt act. He asked for the discharge of John J. Hanahan, against whom, he said, the government had failed to prove an overt act. He then argued for the discharge of the members of the board of directors. Not a single act set forth in the indictment, he claimed, had been proved against them. There had not been the slightest connection made between them and their defendants accused of overt acts. The court said he would take the motion under advisement and make his decision today.

A NICE SURPLUS.

Treasury Officials Consider Carlisle's Estimate Very Conservative.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Treasury officials generally express the opinion that Secretary Carlisle's estimate of a surplus of $22,500,000 for the calendar year, 1895, is conservative. It is argued that the customs duty on sugar alone should bring in at least $35,000,000 during the next 11 months, and that the revenue from the income tax is likely to reach $40,000,000.

The receipts from general customs and from whisky withdrawals are expected to materially increase from now on, which it is believed will bring the receipts for the 12 months up to about $380,500,000. The disbursements for the year, it is thought, will not exceed $351,000,000, leaving a surplus after deducting the $7,000,000 deficit for January of $22,500,000. The internal revenue officials in figuring on the receipts from income taxation, estimate that the returns prior to July 1, will amount to $10,000,000 and for the remaining six months $30,000,000.

Three Persons Went Down to Death.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 6.—Three persons went down to death with the Russell avenue and Holton street trolley car, when it plunged through the open draw of the Kinnickinnie avenue bridge into the river. Motorman Kennedy seems to have been to blame. Six people were injured. The dead are: Miss Antoinette G. Elman, a kindergarten teacher in the Twelfth district primary school and a daughter of Prof. Elman, director of music in the public schools; John Kennedy, motorman of car 415; Miss Schmidt Kuntz, employed at the National knitting works.

The Hayward Trial.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 5.—The questioning of the defense in the Hayward case appears to be toward establishing that Miss Gind died from the blows on her skull which produced those fractures, and that the shot which penetrated her skull, while necessarily of a fatal character, was fired to hasten the end or to divert suspicion from the actual conditions surrounding the crime. This would tend to show that Blixt has, from the start, made false statements.

The Supreme Court Won't Interfere.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The supreme court of the United States has denied the application of Elverson R. Channan, the recalcitrant witness in the senate sugar trust investigation of last summer for a writ of habeas corpus, on the ground that it was not competent for the supreme court to interfere in the matter until after the case should have been finally disposed of by the district courts.

Russia Is Interested.

ATLANTA, Feb. 5.—President Collier of the Cotton States and International exposition is in receipt of a communication from Minister Brockbridge at St. Petersburg, stating that the invitation to take part in the exposition has been kindly received and the Russian government manifests decided interest in the enterprise.

A Military Academy Burned.

PLYMOUTH, Ind., Feb. 5.—The Culver Military academy, at Lake Mackinac, founded by H. H. Culver of St. Louis, has burned. The academy was but recently completed, and the entire buildings, together with a fine hotel and furniture, were destroyed. Fully insured.

Davis and Family on a Trip.

The colder the weather becomes these nights the more complaints are heard that the street railway does not provide waiting stations in different parts of town.

The Rechabites initiated two candidates at their regular meeting last night. The Rechabites are growing more rapidly than any other secret order in the city.

The right of property in the Oschan-Abrams case will be tried before Squire Travis at city hall at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. There will be several witnesses in the case.

J. W. Burt, a brother of J. S. Burt, of Alliance, deputy great commander of the Maccabees, will move to this city from New Waterford, having secured a position in A. J. Boyce's foundry.

The members of the Phoenix club will entertain their lady friends at the rooms of the organization this evening. It is the policy of the club to open its handsome quarters at least once a month.

The trolley pole on car No. 30 broke off close to the spring while the coach was proceeding along the Wellsville road last night. It was towed to the power house by another car and for a time the schedule was knocked out.

The Union quotes an exchange as saying that there is some talk by East Liverpool men of buying the electric street railway to Wellsville and extending it somewhat, so far as to make it pay dividends. Another of those wild-eyed rumors which have been floating around probably.

The Toronto Tribune says that John Daniels has received word from his old manager of the Portland, Me., team, to send his terms immediately, and he will likely attach his signature to a contract later. John is exercising daily with dumb bells, and taking a spin each morning, in order to get himself in first class condition for the coming season.

The question is again being agitated as to whether there shall be three justices of the peace or two. The only cause to object to more than two justices is that of expense and that is principally in the way of furnishing dockets. The township trustees have the right to say how many squires and constables there shall be, and have not yet decided to make the change. How there came to be three justices is explained only by the fact that one long term allowed another man to slip in. If the list is cut down to two there will be several disconsolate candidates.

T. R. Bradshaw, of the West End pottery, arrived home from the east Saturday evening and is telling a good one on himself. He was out on the mountains in Eastern Pennsylvania last week sleighing with a companion. As they were returning they rounded a turn at a rapid pace and "Theo" nearly fell out of the sleigh as he observed a big black bear sitting on a rock waving its paws frantically at them. With a cut from the whip that nearly cut the hind quarters from the horses the sleigh was drawn down the mountain, narrowly escaping a precipice, but the bear did not follow. It is doubtful now if Bradshaw was as badly scared as the bear.

—W. V. Taffner, of Pittsburgh, soliciting agent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, was calling on the local railroad men today.

Theatrical Notes.

Charles A. Leder, with his troupe, presented his new play, "On the Go," at the Grand last night to a crowded house. The McCoy sisters were the attractions, and, in fact, the entire show, with the possible exceptions of Ethel Lynton as Beladonna, Maurice Whish as Mike and Banks Winter as Charles Vanish, who sang very well. Leder slipped down another notch in the estimation of East Liverpool theater goers, as he has been doing for the past two or three seasons, while like himself, his Irishman each year is a less powerful character. This season H. C. Cashman is impersonating the part, and he probably does his best to amuse, but he will never be the successful Irishman who several seasons since sang "Patshy Brannigan" and sent his audiences into convulsions of laughter as well by his comical expressions and clever sayings. The balance of the company is a disappointment. Leder is travelling on his reputation and should take a rest.

Unless all signs fail, the "Trolley System" at the Grand tomorrow night will be one of the hits of the season. Those who were disappointed in Leder last night can retrieve their lost fortunes or interest in comedy. The "Trolley System" should have a crowded house.

Instead of Friday night, the "Black Crook" will appear at the Grand on Feb. 14.

CAPTAIN HINKEY DEFENDED.

Ex-Judge Howland Attacks His Critics at the Yale Alumni Dinner.

The Yale alumni of New York city held their annual love feast and glorification meeting at Sherry's the other night with the usual accompaniment of college yells and music, followed by talks on various subjects. Ex-Judge Henry E. Howland, the president of the association, had some things to say in defense of Captain Hinkey of the football team after he had tickled his audience by telling how few vacant places of public trust Yale alumni had left for other men. Referring to football, he said:

"Wellington said the football fields of England gave them the victory at Waterloo, and although I would approach an editor who takes a different view in a deferential attitude and beg his pardon for differing from him, I should say that whatever makes a man strong, active, quick witted, temperate and well disciplined is of inestimable value to him in after life, and this is what the well regulated game of football does. Yale has been a great school of instruction in it for the past 15 years.

"It is difficult to restrain within the bounds of moderation the feeling of indignation at the treatment by certain newspapers during the past season of the Yale team, one of the best that has ever been on the field, and its captain, who has never been outclassed by any player of any college or any time. The flings and taunts at them for not following the advice of self constituted mentors as to with whom and where they should play were incessant. Misrepresentation of their actions and motives were of daily occurrence. Their work was belittled and their pretensions ridiculed.

"Whatever may have been the reason, whether a conspiracy to punish him for his natural reserve or partisan prejudice, there was nothing charged against him that equaled the 'kneeing' that these newspapers have given him, but the whole body of Yale men, who know him, resent the accusations, assure him that they respect him for his sand, his ginger, his supreme excellence as a player and for his qualities as a man and say to his critics, who assert that they aim to tell the truth, that they are very bad shots.

"The Yale men have never fought over in the newspapers their football games, nor have their friends. They have left it to others in every case, especially the game at Springfield. One happy result of the controversy is probable—that another game will never be played in New York, but all of them on the college grounds."

President Dwight said among other things, in referring to the changes that have taken place in college life:

"People say that the present generation of college men is extravagant. Things are not going so badly as some people imagine. The conditions have changed. The lives of our sons are not limited in many of the ways that we were. The class which graduated 20 years ago spent on the average a little more than the class that graduated last summer. I rejoice that my children are not going to pass through what I did. The improvement of manners and the development of gentlemanly character among college students has been going on."

BUILDING GUNS MORE CHEAPLY.

A Swede's Plan For Giving a Twist to Balls From a Smooth Bore.

The very heavy cost of modern guns is largely due to the time and labor which are necessarily expended upon the operation of rifling them. The material itself is relatively cheap, and a rifled gun, besides being much more costly, is, other things being equal, more short lived than a smoothbore. It is almost impossible so to make the gun and the projectile that the soft driving bands of the latter shall, at the moment of discharge, accurately fit into the grooves and lands of the bore and allow no gases to pass ahead. When these gases do pass ahead of the projectile, they score and damage the interior of the gun, and where the new powders are used and the gases of combustion attain an enormous degree of heat the process of deterioration, especially in weapons of large caliber, is often very rapid.

A Swedish engineer, W. T. Unge, has devised a method whereby he hopes to save not only the cost of rifling, but also the interior wear and tear for which rifling is responsible. He proposes to construct all guns with smoothbores and to fit the projectiles with gas checks, which shall render it practically impossible for any gases to rush past them. In order to convey to the projectile an axially rotary motion, such as is at present conveyed to it by the action of the rifling, he has invented a mechanical arrangement which, at the instant of firing, gives to the gun itself the rotary motion. This may be either constant or increased. He has satisfied himself that the effect upon the projectile is exactly the same as is produced by the constant or increasing twist of an ordinary rifled gun, and he is of opinion that the adoption of his system, while giving equal or even improved accuracy of fire, will reduce the cost of heavy guns by one-half and add enormously to their endurance.—Chicago Herald.

Watches in the House.

Tom Reed has the finest watch in the house. It never varies more than two or three seconds a week. It is not especially costly, but it is a wonder for accuracy, and the ex-speaker never has the slightest trouble with it. There is a chronometer in the house lobby which is connected with the meteorological apparatus, and the members who happen to have fairly good timepieces set their watches by it every day. Reed's is easy at the head of the list, but Dingley Turner of Georgia and Russell of Connecticut come close behind.—Washington Letter.

Cutting Out a Gunboat.

Feb. 2, 1864, was the date of one of the boldest expeditions of the kind known as "cutting out" a warship recorded in our annals. It was led by Colonel John Taylor Wood of President Davis' staff. Wood acquired unique fame in privateering exploits on the Chesapeake and the sound and river waters. With a party of 100 men in boats and launches he dropped down the Neuse river after midnight and getting abreast of the Union fleet off Newbern pointed out the large sidewheel steamer Underwriter as the object of his foray. The rain was pouring torrents, and the night was dark. Guided by the sound of "four bells," the party rowed silently toward the steamer, pistols, pikes and cutlasses in readiness. At 200 yards a challenge rang out from the Union deck, "Boat ahoy!" No answer. "Boat ahoy, boat ahoy!" was the sharp cry, following.

The ship's rattle sprang, and the boarders saw the crew of the gunboat hurrying on deck. "Give way, give way!" shouted Wood, and pulled alongside. The ship lay under the guns of two forts and mounted four of her own. Her fires were banked, and she couldn't move. After one shot from their boat howitzer the Confederates climbed on deck, where they were met with a volley of musketry. Cutlasses and pistols in hand, they rushed upon the Underwriter's men, cheering wildly. In a ten minutes' hand to hand fight 6 boarders were killed and 22 cut down with ugly wounds. The Union crew, headed by Master Joseph Westervelt, fought until overpowered. Westervelt was killed, and 8 of his followers met a like fate. Only 39 surrendered, among them 20 helplessly wounded.

The Union forts and the gunboat alongside the Underwriter speedily opened fire on the doomed ship, and, since the cold boilers made it impossible to remove his prize beyond their deadly range Wood, applied the torch. COLONEL WOOD.

GEORGE L. KILMER.

Feb. 1, 1890, was the date of gallant Commodore Truxton's attack on the French war frigate Vengeance. The Frenchman was more than a match for Truxton's ship, the Constellation, and rated 54 guns against his 38, but she ran before the Yankee, leading him a chase of several hours. It was night when the Constellation overtook the flying frigate. Standing at the lee gangway, Truxton hailed the Vengeance to surrender, receiving for response a broadside in his spars and rigging. But he was all ready, with his battle lanterns swinging over the gunners, who had been told to "load and fire as fast as possible," alternating round shot with grape. The vessels sailed within pistol shot of each other for five hours, and the American ship planted 180 shots in the enemy's hull. More than a third of the French sailors were cut down, and three times the tricolor dropped in token of defeat, but owing to the darkness this signal was not seen.

Truxton's mainmast rigging had been shot away, and the mast was tottering. In the maintop the young midship, James Jarvis, kept his station throughout the fight with an old tar, who cautioned the boy that the mast must go and carry them overboard in the wreck. The lad was chief in authority there and knew his orders. Said he: "I cannot leave my station. If the mast goes, we must go with it."

The mast did fall, and the boy was killed, the only officer lost in that bloody action. GEORGE L. KILMER.

On Feb. 3, 1863, a bloody drama peculiar to the south-west in troublous times was enacted in Mingo swamp, near Jackson, Mo.

The heroes of the occasion acted under military orders, though their methods were of the wild border type. The vicinity of Mingo swamp harbored a guerrilla band whose leader bore the lofty title "General McGee." The fastnesses of the swamp served for a lair. By the aid of scouts as desperate as the outlaws themselves Major Reeder of the Twelfth Missouri cavalry tracked the chief members of the gang to the interior of the swamp. The ground was frozen to a solid crust, and inhabitants who knew the treacherous nature of bog lands in winter urged Reeder not to risk the lives of his men where they might be ambushed in the morass, powerless to resist. But the game had been treed; the hunter blood was up, and, although a blinding snowstorm added to the danger of the enterprise, the major and 40 picked men rode on, swimming their horses over the streams and swamp lakes until their hoofs struck solid earth in a farm clearing, where McGee's men held rendezvous. These numbered that day 25, besides McGee. Taken by surprise, the outlaws ran to cover around the farm buildings. Their pursuers kept the saddle, leaping their horses over fences and other obstructions. "No prisoners" was the order of the day, and as it was all a question of quick shooting it took but a few minutes to end it. McGee was shot dead, eight of the band died with him, and 20 others wounded beyond recovery were left to die in peace, while Reeder's band led from the swamp two slightly wounded fellows who had been spared because the avengers hadn't the heart to complete the wholesale sentence of death.

An American Consul Dead.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—The Times announces the death in this city of Mr. Ralph O. Ruby, American vice and deputy consul at Belfast.

Utica's Unique Tollgate.
Utica enjoys the doubtful distinction of being probably the only city in the United States which has a tollgate within its boundaries or anywhere near it, for that matter. The old days of toll roads and tollgates have passed away, and it is well that they have. The company which maintains the Deerfield gate has a legal status that cannot be done away with without the consent of those who own the property. The last legislature passed an enabling act which makes it possible for the parties interested to do away with the tollgate, and it is something to which the attention of the authorities may properly be directed.—Utica Press.
